Our Ethos

We believe that learning should be fun and fun should be learning, learning happens everywhere especially in an ever-changing outdoor environment. Our focus is on the children they are the future and the most important people and they should be treated so. We expect our teams to see learning from the child's point of view by getting down to their level, only this way do we see what they are seeing everyday.

As adults, we are here to enable play opportunities and therefore learning opportunities, we will not get in the way of natural learning experiences. We will simply match the curriculum with the children's interests and needs.

We want children to learn without even realising they are doing so.

Our Aims

- We aim to be different and provide children with a hands on approach to learning.
- By trying and doing, instead of hearing and seeing. For the children to lead their play and experiences and for us to provide a safe and naturally stimulating environment.
- For our children to become confident , responsible, effective and successful in all they set out to do.
- To work in partnership and consult with other professionals, our parents and our young learners.
- To extend the hands on learning approach to our staff teams with encouragement for self development and training.
- To acknowledge never-ending improvement through self evaluation and peer reflection.

Teaching to manage Risk

Taking learning outdoors gives children the opportunity to learn in an ever-changing environment. Colours, temperature, textures and sounds within the outdoor classroom change daily, creating a more sensory and stimulating learning experience, offering greater challenge.

We believe children should get to know the world through real life experiences outdoors. We teach our children about risk and how to manage them as we believe this is highly important as many children live in a protective bubble, completely sheltered from any form of risk taking. Without taking risk, how can we expect children to make good judgements when needed.

We teach this through various activities such as climbing trees, walking down slippery slopes, getting back up again.

Using junior saws and drills and using the fire pit for cooking and thought sharing. All of this with outdoor first aiders and fully trained and capable staff by their side.

Pre-Birth to Three framework, within natural environments

Whilst babies and young children are eager to learn and make sense of the world, they require positive and consistent relationships to support them in this journey. Babies are 'programmed' to look to other people to help them make sense of their world and we are here to set the best role model and to ensure the children feel safe and secure to explore all of their surroundings inside and out!

Curriculum for Excellence through outdoor learning

Curriculum for Excellence offers opportunities for all children and young people to enjoy first-hand experiences outdoors.

Such experiences inspire passion, motivating our children and young people to become successful learners and to develop as healthy, confident, enterprising and responsible citizens.

The core values of Curriculum for Excellence echo the key concepts of outdoor learning: challenge, enjoyment, relevance, depth, development of the whole person and an adventurous approach to learning.

Below are a few examples of how we at Chapter One Childcare teach the Curriculum for Excellence through outdoors and natural indoor environments.

Learning letters

Risk & fine motor skills

Measuring

Team work and role play

Expressive arts and music

Patterns and sequencing
